

Underwater rail tracks?

IN times of floods, the focus is on the victims, their inundated homes and the highways that look like rivers. We are reminded here that even railway tracks are not spared. Citizen Reporter Shoba didn't say where she snapped this picture but, wherever it is, it looks bad. KTM has to either elevate the tracks or build an embankment, all sure to be costly. — MMS picture by Shoba